July 2017

Dear Parent or Carer,

Your daughter is now in her last term in Year Seven. I hope she has settled into the school well and is feeling confident and happy in her new environment. I also hope that you feel that you have clear information about how the school works, and the opportunities that are available for your daughter. We are keen to work in partnership with you to make sure that your daughter is happy and successful in school. Please contact us if you have any concerns.

I'd like to take this opportunity to let you know about what happens during Year Eight at Camden School for Girls.

Year Eight at Camden School for Girls

Year Eight brings some exciting developments for students. Your daughter will start studying Classics, and, by the end of the year she will be able to choose to continue Classics or Latin in Year Nine. Science will be taught in slightly smaller groups, to provide more time and opportunity for help from teachers, and to enable practical work to take place in smaller groups. Other subjects carry on in the same way as Year Seven, but please expect the work to be somewhat more challenging, and recognise that your daughter will need to spend more time on homework. We have broad ability setting in science, languages and mathematics in order to make sure that every student is working at the right level for them. Don't hesitate to contact us if your daughter is struggling.

For more detail on the curriculum, please visit our website at www.camdengirls.camden.sch.uk

Careers, work routines and friendships

In addition, we will start to talk to your daughter about Careers. This may seem rather early, but all the evidence shows that it is most beneficial for students to start thinking about their future career as early as possible.

Year Eight is the year in which important foundations are laid for future study and for work. It is vital that your daughter has routines at home that enable her to work, and that she continues using her Planner to record homework and for messages from you to her Form Tutor. Please check this regularly.

This can also be a year in which friendships change and students become more independent. This is to be expected, but if you are at all worried about your daughter, please contact her form tutor to discuss any issues you may have.

Tests and examinations

There are no public examinations in Year Eight, but we will set subject exams during lessons in the Summer Term. We will send you more information about this nearer the time. Your daughter will take short subject tests in subject lessons to check her understanding and progress.

Summer Holiday

Please encourage your daughter to read over the summer. We have an excellent library with a wide range of fiction and non-fiction books, which your daughter is welcome to borrow over the summer. We have attached a reading list with some suggestions.

Clubs and extra-curricular activities

Information about clubs and extra-curricular activities will be provided in September. For school policies, the latest Friday News and general information please go to the school website at www.camdengirls.camden.sch.uk. For information about Year Eight, please see the Year Eight Handbook on the school website.

More information for parents

We contact parents every day with our School Daily Banda, which tells you about clubs and events. Do encourage your daughter to participate in the many activities on offer. We also send you a reminder about our weekly newsletter, the Friday News, which is published every Friday on the website.

Social Media

If your daughter has internet access over the summer, it is likely that she will be using Social Media sites (such as Instagram and Snapchat) more frequently. We recommend that you monitor this closely to ensure that the content she accesses, and conversations she has with others on those sites remain appropriate, as many friendship issues occur as a result of comments made on such websites. Our website has links to advice for parents about social media use in the Parents' section – please refer to this for advice.

If you have any concerns, please contact your daughter's form tutor, her Head of Year Ms Perry at eperry@csg.school, Assistant Headteacher, Ms Toman at dtoman@csg.school, Deputy Headteacher Ms Derrar at kderrar@csg.school or myself at csg@csg.school

I wish you a very enjoyable summer and hope to see you at one of our many forthcoming events.

Yours sincerely

Elizabeth Kitcatt

Headteacher

Attached: Reading List

40(ish) Brilliant Books to Read during Year 7

- All the books on this list may be borrowed from the school library.
- This list contains just 1 title per author. Most of the authors have written other equally good books. If you enjoy reading a particular book, then do try other books by the same author.
- Titles in italics are the first in a series.

Alcott, Louisa M	Little Women	Classic story about the lives of four sisters in USA during the Civil War of the 1860s
Almond, David	Skellig	When Michael's new sister is critically ill, an unconventional angel comes to his aid.
Augarde, Steve	The Various	Midge is a sophisticated London girl, not the type to believe in fairies. Then, she meets "The Various", a disparate group of little people living her uncle's farm.
Bell, Cece	El Deafo	An autobiography in the form of a graphic novel. Cece who is deaf, recalls her the isolation she felt during her time at school. Her hearing aids immediately marked her out, though sometimes they enabled her to hear private conversations.
Brahmachari, Sita	Artichoke Hearts	A thoughtful, real life story set around Hampstead Heath. Mira will soon be a teenager. Life is full of possibilities. At the same time, there is sadness as her beloved grandmother is dying from cancer.
Burnett, Frances H	The Secret Garden	A classic. When Mary's parents die, she is sent to live with an uncle she has never met who lives in a large house full of secrets on the Yorkshire Moors.
Campbell-Johnston, Rachel	The Child's Elephant	An adventure story set on the East African Savannah about a boy who cares for an orphaned baby elephant. When it is time for the elephant to return to the wild, he finds himself in conflict with elephant poachers and child kidnappers.
Cross, Gillian	After Tomorrow	In the near future, Britain goes bankrupt and descends into anarchy. In a reversal of the current situation, thousands of desperate British refugees try to cross the English Channel and France is overwhelmed.

De Prince, Michaela	Hope in a Ballet Shoe	An autobiography. Born in war-torn Sierra Leone, Michaela ended up in an orphanage. She was adopted and taken to America where her new parents fostered her love of dance. Today she is a professional ballet dancer.
Dhami, Narinder	13 Hours	A nail-biting thriller with an unexpected ending. Anni's home is under siege. She had the chance to escape, but her agoraphobic mother refused to leave the house. So they must stay and hope they survive
Dowd, Siobhan	The London Eye Mystery	At 11.32am Salim enters a pod on the London eye. The pod completes a revolution. At 12.02pm the door opens. But Salim does not exit the pod. How could this be? If you enjoy this book try Smart By Kim Slater which is similar.
Doyle, Roddy	A Greyhound of a Girl	A family story set in Ireland which shows how life has changed for women over 4 generations.
Edge, Christopher	Twelve Minutes to Midnight	Partly historical, partly fantasy and definitely a mystery. Why do the inmates of Bedlam, London's notorious madhouse, begin writing frenziedly at precisely 12 minutes to midnight each night?
Farrant, Natasha	After Iris	Everyday life in a somewhat dysfunctional family as captured by 13 year old Bluebell in her diaries.
Fine, Anne	The Devil Walks	Gothic horror. Daniel has never been outside his home. When he is "rescued" by a well-meaning doctor, he ends up in the clutches of his sinister uncle.
Geda, Fabio	In the Sea there are Crocodiles	Enaiatollah Akbari, a 10 year old refugee from Afghanistan, really did make this remarkable journey. He travelled all alone for 5 long years before finally claiming asylum in Europe.
Hardinge, Frances	The Lie Tree	Adventure, intrigue, fantasy, history and very clever writing. Faith is a girl in Victorian times who refuses to live up to Victorian womanly ideals
Hepburn, Sam	If You were Me.	Aliya and her family have recently arrived in London from Afghanistan. When her brother is accused of terrorism, she is sure he is innocent. But can she prove it?
Ibbotson, Eva	The Star of Kazan	An adventure story set in Austria and Germany at the beginning of the 20th Century. Annike has been adopted by the people in the house where she was abandoned as a baby. Then unexpectedly her mother claims her back.
LaFleur, Suzanne	Love Aubrey	This book will make you both smile and cry. After a family tragedy, Aubrey must start a new life with her grandmother in Vermont.
Landman, Tanya	Mondays are Murder	A murder mystery that is short and easy to read. Working out "whodunit?", however, is much more difficult.

Lewis, Gill	Sky Hawk	An animal adventure story set in the Scottish Highlands. When Callum and Iona discover a rare osprey nesting on Callum's Farm, they are determined to protect it
Magorian, Michelle	Back Home	1945. World War 2 has finally ended and 12 year old Rusty returns to an austere England and a family she hardly remembers after 5 years as an evacuee in the United States.
Mah, Adeline Yen	Chinese Cinderella	An autobiography. Adeline's mother died shortly after giving birth to her. So according to Chinese custom, Adeline was unlucky and was treated badly.
McKenzie, Sophie	Girl Missing	Lauren always knew she was adopted, but her adoptive parents refuse to tell her anything about her real family. Could it be that she was adopted illegally?
Montgomery, L M	Anne of Green Gables	Classic heart-warming story about an orphan girl mistakenly sent to a middle-aged brother and sister who wish to adopt a boy to work on their farm.
Morpurgo, Michael	War Horse	Joey is an exceptional horse who makes his mark on the battlefields during World War One.
Mulligan, Andy	Trash	A thriller about a group of children living in extreme poverty in the Philippines who find a bag of money. Sadly real people do live on rubbish tips like the characters do in this book.
O'Hearn, Kate	Pegasus and the Flame	Modern fantasy adventures involving Pegasus, the legendary winged horse
Palacio, R J	Wonder	August is severely disfigured. At the age of 10, he is going to school for the first time. How will his new classmates react to his face?
Paver, Michelle	Wolf Brother	An epic historical adventure set in the Stone Age, a time when people truly believed in magic. Torak is all alone in the world apart from his dog
Pitcher, Annabel	My sister lives on the mantelpiece	Following the death of his sister in a terrorist attack, Jamie's family falls apart and he has to move from London and start a new life in the Lake District.
Pullman, Philip	Northern Lights	This absorbing fantasy adventure is set in an alternative world where everyone is accompanied by a "daemon", an animal version of their soul. It raises important questions about the relationship between religion and science.
Rundell, Catherine	Rooftoppers	As a baby Sophie is found floating in the English Channel in a cello case. When Social Services threaten to separate her from the kindly man who found her, they run away to Paris in search of her mother.
Sachar, Louis	Holes	Stanley Yelnats was framed for a crime he did not commit. He is sent to a juvenile detention camp in the hot desert and forced to dig a large hole each day.

Selznick, Brian	The Marvels	An intriguing brick of a book about family connections over 300 years. The book is in two parts. The first consists entirely of pencil drawings.
St John, Lauren	The One Dollar Horse	When Casey rescues a starving horse, she dreams of becoming a champion rider. But the odds are stacked firmly against a poor girl from Hackney. This rags-to-riches horse story is reminiscent of Enid Bagnold's classic National Velvet which you might also enjoy.
Saunders, Kate	Five Children on the Western Front	A sequel to E Nesbit's classic story Five Children and It . It is not necessary to have read the original book, though having read this book you will probably want to! Nine years have passed, and it is the start of World War One. The eldest boys must go to war, whilst back home everybody must contribute to the war effort.
Stevens, Robin	Murder Most Unladylike	A murder mystery set in a girls' boarding school during the 1930s. Good readers who enjoy these books are encouraged to move on to the works of Agatha Christie as they have many similarities to Stevens' series.
Telgemeier, Raina	Drama	A graphic novel about a school musical where there is plenty of drama both on and off stage.
Torday, Piers	The Last Wild	In a fantasy dystopian world where there are supposedly no animals left and all food is flavoured pink gloop, Kester embarks on a great adventure.
Westcott, Rebecca	Dandelion Clocks	Like all families, Liv's family have good times and bad times. But nothing has prepared Liv for her mother becoming terminally ill.
Wolk, Lauren	Wolf Hollow	This book shares many similarities with the great American classic To Kill a Mockingbird . The story is in rural Pennsylvania in the 1940. When bully Betty comes to live with her grandmother, a chain of events is set in motion which will result in innocent people being hurt and turn the community upside-down.
