Dear Parents/Carers,

As you know, we value day and residential trips at Camden School for Girls and we want our students to experience the exceptional museums, galleries, monuments and facilities that are available in London and elsewhere. We run an extensive programme of day trips during the summer term and we want these trips to go ahead as normal.

I understand that the recent terror attacks may have made parents anxious about their children spending time away from the school premises. Please be assured that the school carries out a detailed risk assessment in relation to every trip. This includes consideration of the journeys to and from the venue, which are supervised, and the safety of students within the destination area. Staff accompanying students are always experienced and familiar to the girls and/or boys on the trip.

I do hope you will support the school in continuing with our scheduled trip programme. However, if you are anxious about your child's participation on a trip, please contact your child's Head of Year to discuss your concerns in advance of the trip taking place.

Kind regards

Elizabeth Kitcatt
